

The Estonian Society of Nephrology (ESN) was founded in the 1994 and is the professional society for nephrologist and renal scientists, but also for some other specialists with interest in nephrology.

The aim of ESN is to promote the continuous development of nephrology by arranging scientific meetings and discussions for nephrologist, family doctors and other specialists to improve treatment of nephrological patients.

ESN also engages in issues relating to the planning and development of nephrology services.

Estonian Society of Nephrology is a member of the European Kidney Health Alliance.

The society has 31 active members and 7 enterprises of industry as supporting members.

Board of the Estonian Society of Nephrology:

Chairman: Kadri Lilienthal MD

Board members: Mai Rosenberg MD PhD, Merike Luman MD PhD, Madis Ilmoja MD, Inga Vainumäe MD

E-mail: nefro@online.ee and more information you can find from website: www.nefro.ee