Towards HERA: can it live up to European citizens' expectations?

BioMed Alliance publishes new statement highlighting the need for a strong scientific basis & sufficient stakeholder involvement

New BioMed Alliance Statement on HERA

Towards HERA: can it live up to European citizens' expectations?

The European Commission has recently published its Communication on the new Health Emergency Response Authority (HERA) which is supposed to be established within the Commission and start operations early 2022. The BioMed Alliance, of which ERA is a member, welcomes the plans to establish HERA, but also raises certain concerns and needs for clarification in a new statement.

A banner for the 59th ERA Congress. On the left, there is an image of the Eiffel Tower and a statue. In the center, there are three icons: a green graduation cap for "EDUCATION", a yellow atom for "SCIENCE", and a blue network diagram for "NETWORKING". On the right, the text reads: "59TH ERA CONGRESS PARIS & VIRTUAL MAY 19-22, 2022". Below the icons, the website "www.era-online.org" is listed.
